HAN-TEK, INC. MOVES ALONG WITH HYTROL

VICTOR, NY, December 4, 2009- Han-Tek, Inc., a full automation and integrated material handling solutions provider based in upstate New York recently became the newest member of the Hytrol Conveyor Company distribution network. With more installation than any other conveyor brand in the United States, Hytrol is widely acknowledged as the most recognizable conveyor manufacturer in the country.

The Arkansas based company's reputation and commitment to manufacturing high-quality conveying products and continued respect in the material handling industry were important factors involved in Han-Tek's decision to partner with Hytrol.

"Han-Tek strives to find strategic partners that share our corporate culture: commitment to quality, devotion to the customers and partners as well as respect for employees is a must. Hytrol was a perfect fit for us", Patrick Tobin, Business Development Manager at Han-Tek, Inc.

Our partner Hytrol recently commented that they "form a unique three-way partnership between their company, their distributors and their customers"; Han-Tek shares a similar philosophy in their business alliances. They create personal relationships with each of their clients on a continual basis.

Han-Tek believes that this new strategic partnership with Hytrol will offer them many new opportunities for growth in not only the upstate New York region, but also throughout the country. Han-Tek is looking forward to what the future holds for them.
