

Davidson County Community College-NC

Graduates First Festo Mechatronics Certified Students

Festo Learning Systems is please to announce that Davidson County Community College in Lexington, NC has graduated their first eight (8) students with the Festo Mechatronics Certification in the area of Automation Technology!

Bobby Cole of DCCC became a Festo Certified instructor in 2007, after attending a 2 week training course in Germany with Festo and a local University. This training, coupled with Mr. Cole's vast automation experience and review of the impressive program at DCCC by Festo Trainers, qualified the program for the Festo Mechatronics Certification in the area of Automation Technology. DCCC's program has been growing rapidly and both DCCC and Festo plan to expand the certification program into other areas.
